

We have processed data in the millions for clients in Telecommunications, digitizing files at an average of 20,000 pages per day.

Communication is an indispensable part of our day-to-day lives.

Because of this, Tech One prefers businesses like yours to concentrate on essential processes that allow people to keep in touch, while this company takes care of your day-to-day business activities. Tech One makes it easier for you to concentrate on the big things to keep the world connected.

Clients served in the Telecommunications Industry benefit from the following services:

- Document Processing: Data Entry in large quantities (in the millions)
- Digitization of financial records, billing statements and index-referencing services
- Digitization and data extraction of customer records, such as application forms and supporting documents
- Forms Processing Services
- Remote Online Data Entry
- Development of Intranet Systems and Document Management Systems integrated with billing systems
- Development of Intranet Sites and Public Fan Sites
- And many more

Services such as data entering and index-referencing have helped Telco businesses focus on maintaining client relations, while we provide solutions to their daily business processes.

The Tech One team of well-trained professionals is certified by CompTIA CDIA+ (Certified Document Imaging Architect), and PMP-PMI (Project Management Professionals). Rest assured that Tech One has the best human resources in the industry to help you realize your business goals.